All In For Kids Benefit

It was a brilliant night of dining and dancing in support of Chicago's most vulnerable kids at JPA's 2018 "All in for Kids" Benefit on Friday, May 18th. The event raised nearly $400,000 to help us continue our efforts, begun 117 years ago by Jane Addams. We know she'd be proud and happy to see the community turn out in force for children affected by trauma.

Kudos to our returning Benefit Chair Bob Johnson and our enthusiastic MC, Marc "Silvy" Silverman from the Waddle & Silvy Show on ESPN Radio. The energy was palpable, and people enjoyed themselves throughout the night.

Our keynote speaker, Principal Willard Willette from Lawndale Community Academy, captivated the room, sharing stories of how crucial JPA's therapeutic work is to so many of his students who have been traumatized by violence in one of Chicago's most severely affected communities
